

I am concerned about allowing power companies unregulated use of the high frequency spectrum for high speed internet access. The potential interference with other regulated users of these frequencies will be devastating.

Thanks

Tom Sowden